Honorable Justices of the U.S. Supreme Court:

I am outraged by the draft ruling on Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization, which shows the majority of the justices care so little for the child-bearing population's personal sovereignty, dignity, health, and human rights. I call on you to rethink, reverse course, and restore the right to decide one's major life decisions without state interference. Your ruling will not only impact Roe v. Wade, but also the fundamental concept of separation of church and state, and the right to bodily autonomy for trans people. Denial of access to abortion has a disproportionate effect on people of color and poor people of all races. The ability to make crucial decisions about the course of one's life should not be abridged by race, gender, income, or physical ability.

I call on the court to rule that abortion is a human right that must be free and accessible on demand. You must put an end to states' endless efforts to subvert that right. To deny respect and self-determination to more than half the population would be the gravest injustice. Abortions will continue because they are essential, but they will be more dangerous and difficult. Unjust laws will be broken!

Sincerely,
